SALT SPRING ISLAND

DRIFTWOOD

Thursday, October 31st, 1963 Vol. 4 No. 33 10c per copy.

ROD & GUN CLUB DERBY

The Rod & Gun Club deer derby closes Sunday, Nov. 3. As the end looms in sight hunters all over the Island are bemoaning their poor luck.

Awards will be made for the heaviest buck and for the best set of horns brought in by Club members.

Leading the race this year for heaviest buck is last year's winner, Bud Conery whose deer weighed in at 147 3/4 lbs. Horns entered in the derby are on display in Mouat Bros. window. 1962 saw a tie for 'best horns' award shared by Ken Stevens and Morry Akerman.

Prizes for both hunting and fishing derbies will be awarded at the Rod & Gun Club Banquet November 8th.

berry picked fresh from his garden last Saturday just after Mr. Harry Loosmore brought a dozen big juicy raspberries.

Miss Gwen Ruckle of Beaver Point is now the proud possessor of an International Correspondence School Certificate qualifying her in commercial art. Gwen tells us that her great-aunt was one of the very early ICS art students, having taken the course in 1904 just 3 years after the school started. Congratulations, Gwen.

A coincidence? A man hunting bear in the forest met a bear who had just decided to start hunting for a man. The man said, "I have come to hunt a bear, and there you are!" Said the bear, "I am hunting a man this morning."

BUILDING BOOM CONTINUES

Real estate sales and home construction continues to be active on Salt Spring and other Gulf Islands. Salt Spring property transactions totalling $750,000 have been recorded by Ganges Provincial Assessor's office since January 1st of this year. Reports indicate that local construction firms have orders in hand which will provide work for at least a year ahead.

Federal winter works grant is expected to add further impetus to the local house-building scene.

 POSTMAN'S PEEVE *****

This is unofficially designated at 'Help your Mailman week'. According to postmaster A.J. 'Pop' Eaton, the Post Office sent notices way last April to those people whose names are not clearly marked on their rural boxes. The Post Office supplied the stencils at the same time.

But many people are fortunate that delivery man Johnny Waterfall is so familiar with the Island because some of the boxes still don't have the names marked on them. Where there are a number of boxes on one corner, it is especially hard to know which box belongs to who.

Help the mailman— check your box. If your name is not readable, get out to paint it now.

 Come to my den so we can talk this over. "They went to the den where the bear got his man and the man got a fine bear fur coat." *****

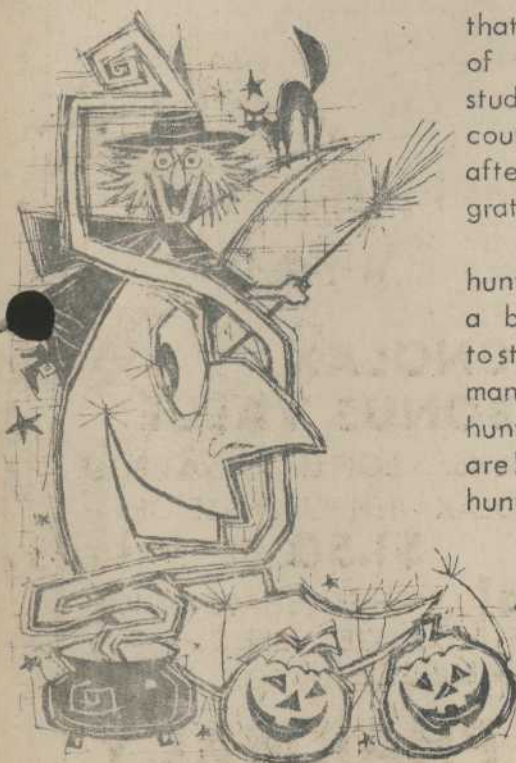

ORCHIDS IN THE LIVING ROOM

by Elsie Worthington
Mrs. W.D. Stephen, Reid Rd., Ganges Hill, is the proud owner of a cattleya orchid with four gorgeous six-inch mauve and purple blooms brought to flowering stage in her living room.

The orchid plant, acquired by Mrs. Stephen four years ago, has bloomed for three successive seasons; starting with two blooms and adding a bloom each year. The plant will be on display at DRIFTWOOD'S new premises (old Liquor Store) until Saturday, by kind permission of Mrs. Stephen who is happy to share the beauty of the magnificent flowers.

It came as a surprise to the writer to learn that such an exotic plant can flourish to the point of blooming perfection in an ordinary living room. Mrs. Stephen possesses three other cattleya orchids; one regular bloomer produces pink flowers early in the year; two more are expected to flower for the first time within a few months.

Following this treatment the blooms can be used to grace the dining table or living room for another three to four weeks.

Orchids are grown in specially-treated bark or moss supplied by commercial orchid growers. Watering is done every five to seven days, depending on the season, but plants must be allowed to dry out completely between times. The air around the plants must be kept moist. Mrs. Stephen's orchid pots stand on small stones half submerged in water in a deep container. Her plants are kept on a table by the dining room window with southeast exposure, where they get plenty of sunlight. Room temperature ranges from 70 degrees daytime to 60 degrees at night. Mrs. Stephen said plants will endure 40 degrees but will not bloom if the temperature goes below 50 degrees. Orchids are very susceptible to draughts after the bud sheath emerges and while in the bud stage. Open flowers are not troubled by draughts but discolor quickly if touched. One must resist the urge to stroke the soft velvety bloom of the lower petals!

Mr. & Mrs. Stephen have other lovely flowering plants in their home and also maintain a beautiful garden, but it is easy to see that the orchids are their pride and joy. And no wonder!

FULFORD RUMBLINGS

by Bea Hamilton

If anyone was startled by a resounding crash in the vicinity of the Gyves place one day last week, it was the old barn collapsing. The "push" behind all this were two young men - Chris Rees and Gordie Paget. The barn was 73 years old and wabbling on it's last legs - or posts, as the case may be, so they thought they would hasten the fall, and perhaps prevent an accident. Besides, Gordie, (the Gyves' grandson,) who is 14, got more than a bang out of wrecking the joint—he salvaged the better parts of the lumber and he and Chris Rees have put up a "hunting Lodge" across the field. So instead of a shakey old historical building marking another age, they now have a more modern and much smaller building, to preserve the memories of the past pioneers. And who knows? the Hunting Lodge may be a historical relic itself in another century! We would suggest that Gordie put a plaque or board with the name and dates, of the old barn, and that of the builder, his grandfather Gyves, and his own and Chris Rees names. Some day, some of his people might find it interesting.

The late Michael Gyves, was one of the five names remembered who helped to build St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church in 1880. Other names are E. Bittencourt,

EDITORIAL

A dustpan ... a not very important item. But its importance is magnified when it becomes a symbol. Our particular dustpan has become a symbol of the good will of Salt Spring people. Such good will reaches a zenith around Christmas, but the rest of the year sometimes seems hidden.

Everytime we use our dustpan we'll think of the good will that inspired the gift. It will remind us of the carpenter who spent two evenings helping reorganize our new building; and the teacher and reporter who packed boxes and furniture for three hours; and the two chaps who dropped in and willingly picked up hammers and saws to finish odd jobs around; and the girls who wielded paint brushes and mops for three days; and the driver who, finding it impractical to move our press on a truck, figured out a way to move it by hand and stayed to help; and the electrician who cheerfully helped the press moving crew.

We'll remember the good will of our busy neighbours who dropped in to wish us well - the friends who thoughtfully brought flowers to brighten our new store - our faithful staff who spent time, not at desks and printing jobs, but in the hard bull work of moving.

A dustpan, when given with good wishes, can be a symbol. A symbol that our community has more than a fair share of the good will and kindness that help make it such a fine place to live.

WHAT'S COOKING ON SALT SPRING

by Elsie Worthington

With Thanksgiving Day behind us our thoughts are turning to Christmas. It is not too soon to check recipes and begin assembling ingredients for delectable dishes for the yuletide feast.

Perhaps DRIFTWOOD readers, particularly those from other countries, may like to share cherished recipes used for the festive season. We shall be delighted to pass them on to other readers. Meanwhile the following recipe for mincemeat can start the ball rolling.

This English "receipt" is probably more than a century old. It has been used in my family for at least 50 years and I can vouch for its fine flavour, especially if the mincemeat is made early and allowed to stand for several weeks before using. It is simple to make and requires no cooking until ready for baking into pies. The type of apple used is important. King apples give a particularly rich flavour. Use late season rather than early season fruit.

CONTRIBUTORS COLUMN

"Dear Editor: I wonder how many of your readers happened to notice a small article which appeared in October 19th issue of the Victoria Daily Colonist, stating that "Recreation Minister Earle Westwood announced Friday that 1963-64 Trapping Regulations will permit juveniles to trap under the authority of a special permit, - and that he stated this would 'allow juveniles to engage in a healthful outdoor pursuit in rural areas'".

I think you will agree that there is nothing very "Healthful" in encouraging youngsters to trap helpless little animals who might otherwise become their friends or pets, - cause agonizing suffering, their actions "approved by law", - be forced to bludgeon or strangle animals to death in order to then put them out of their misery.

At a time when educators and club-members are doing their utmost to instill the value of kindness and fair play in the minds of the young, there could not be a more retrograde law than this one proposed by Mr. Westwood. There is no kindness or fair play here, and every person who feels compassion for children and for animals, and who entertains some hope for a better world to live in, should shout this law down before it ever comes into being.

The fact that Mr. Westwood has now been proven the loser in the September elections and will no longer be in a position to promote such "healthful" occupations for the young, does not preclude actions already taken. It is to be hoped that the good people of your Islands will join in the overall clamor to have any such special trapping licenses for juveniles rescinded, immediately.

Yours very truly, Mrs. R. F. Cornish (Signed)"

- WORDS OF INSPIRATION -

"Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God."

1 John 4:7.

Would you know the blessing of all blessings? It is the God of Love swelling in your soul, and killing every root of bitterness, which is the pain and torment of every earthly selfish love. Life is no longer a burden, every day is a day of peace, everything you meet becomes a help to you, because everything you see or do, is all done in the sweet gentle element of Love.

William Law.

other preservative); 1 lb. currants, washed and cleaned; 1 lb. seeded raisins; 1 lb. chopped apples (four medium size fruit - I usually include the skin but this is optional); 1/2 lb. sultanas or seedless raisins; 1/4 lb. sliced mixed candied peel. Put all ingredients through food chopper, using medium blade. Stir in 1 lb. granulated sugar; 1/4 teas. each of nutmeg, mace and cinnamon; juice and grated rind of two lemons; if desired, 2 oz. brandy may be added. Blend all ingredients thoroughly; press into pint or quart jars, filling to within 1" or 1 1/2" from the top. Cover closely and store in a cool (but not cold) dry place. Makes about five pints.

I suggest making sufficient quantity for use after Christmas. A half cup of mincemeat mixed with plain suet or batter dough produces a pudding of distinctive flavour. The same is true if added to a simple cookie recipe. A pie made of mincemeat mixed with equal quantity of apple sauce, served piping hot on a blustery day, will take its place in Memory's hall of fame as one of "the pies that Mother used to make!"

FULFORD NEWS

by Bea Hamilton

There is to be a Smorgasbord supper in the Fulford Hall on Nov. 8th, sponsored by the Hall Committee and Women's Institute. Eating times should be about 6 P.M. For a change of scenery and a nice supper, join the gang. All welcome (for a consideration of course.)

And, say the Hall committee, things are perking up for a New Year's Eve dance. Already? sort of looking ahead, aren't they? We haven't even had Christmas yet.

The Burgoyne Bay United Church Women held their regular meeting recently at the home of Mr. & Mrs. H.B. Dickens. Following routine business, Dr. N. Hughes gave a graphic report of her term as the first Woman President at the B.C. Conference of the United Church.

They have made plans to hold their Fall Bazaar on Nov. 19th. at Nan's Coffee Bar.

We have all been looking at rainbows - lots of them. They have been showing up in twos, (and once, a faint reflection of a reflection showed over Russell Island.) That made three rainbows at one time. Several times a perfect arch circled Fulford. One rainbow slipped out of line and showed up across Bryant's hill, where they are not often seen. They were all brilliant and lovely. We have been treated to more thunder and lightning than is usual also-

CHURCH NEWS

A service of Holy Communion will be held on All Saints Day, Friday Nov. 1st at 10 a.m. in St. George's Church, Ganges.

RECREATION COMMISSION

The S.S.I. Recreation Commission is looking for some young person who would like to avail himself of free training in the field of recreation. Instruction is given at points on Vancouver Island. The purpose of the training is to find a young man or woman who will be willing to give instruction in the local community in sports and physical training.

UCW HONOURS PIRATE DAYS PLEDGE.

United Church Women took steps at a recent meeting to honour their pledge to Chamber of Commerce Pirate Days committee, and will turn over 10% of net proceeds from the smorgasbord supper held during the fiesta, to be applied to the committee's financial deficit. Mrs. Irl Bradley presided at the meeting, with 22 members present.

Treasurer Mrs. H. Ashley reported $240.98 profit from the supper. Members decided to set aside $175. for purchase of stacking chairs. Mrs. J. Tomlinson and Mrs. T.N. Vodden were asked to take charge of the matter.

SCHOOL DISTRICT ANNUAL MEETING - MAHON HALL. MONDAY.

The papers, we notice, are deploring the tremendous increase in cases of mental illness and the fact that our hospitals will soon be inadequate. Well, this would confirm our opinion that all the crazy people are outside of the asylums; the only sane people are already in these institutions.

We notice from the news reports that there have been several serious automobile accidents where the drivers "went out of control!"
