Lee cuts vineyard's 1st grapes

Long-time Salt Spring resident Evelyn Lee snipped the first cluster of grapes off the property she called home for 40 years.

By cutting the grapes last Tuesday morning, she helped launch Garry Oak Vineyard's inaugural vintage.

"It's our way of honouring Evelyn and thanking her for the help she's given us in getting to know the land since we bought the farm from her in 1999," noted vineyard owner Marcel Mercier.

"Evelyn also connects us to the agricultural tradition started by the original Lees who first farmed on this hill over a century ago."

Garry Oaks Vineyard is located on the Fulford-Ganges portion of road commonly known as Lee's Hill.

The vineyard hopes to harvest four tons of grapes from the 10-acre farm this fall, including Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir, Gewurztraminer and Leon Millot.

"The grapes have done really well and the fruit we are getting this year is excellent," noted co-owner and wine-maker Elaine Kozak. "I am looking forward to vinifying it."

By 2006 when the vineyard is "fully mature," Mercier and Kozak hope to be producing 18-20 tons of grapes annually.

"Grape-growing is a long-term proposition," noted Mercier. "It is three years before you get commercial quantities from the vines, and five before they are in full production."

The grapes will be "vinified" in a winery built on the property, which overlooks Burgoyne Bay.

The first wines will be released in 2003, when the winery opens for tours, tastings and sales.

Island poppy campaign gets under way

Branch 92 of the Royal Canadian Legion is gearing up for Remembrance Day on November 11.

Members of both the branch and ladies' auxiliary group will be distributing poppies to the public prior to Remembrance Day, and the wreath program is underway, said poppy campaign chair Barb Todd.

Wreaths are purchased by business people and individuals to place on the Centennial Park Cenotaph or to display in store windows to indicate the remembrance of those who died as the result of war and peacekeeping duties.

Members in uniform will be going to the schools to talk to students with regard to November 11 and also to remind them of the poster and essay contests, said Todd.

"The people and businesses on Salt Spring have always generously supported the poppy campaign," she said. "Last year was a record year with $11,312 received in donations. This money is spent assisting veterans and their families, Greenwoods, Lady Minto Hospital and bursaries, just to name a few."

Services will be held as usual at the cenotaph on Monday, November 11. The parade will form up in front of the post office at 10:30 a.m.

Anyone needing further information regarding wreath sales or the poppy campaign should call the Legion at 537-5822.

Mallett offers up weekend retreat

A yoga retreat at the Salt Spring Centre this weekend will help women "create a sacred space."

The three-day event will offer a variety of experiences all geared toward "clearing space to create sacred space; clearing space to explore sacred space; and clearing space to inhabit sacred space."

Called Creating Sacred Space, the retreat is being facilitated by well-known Salt Spring yoga instructor Celeste Mallett, with guest speaker Elly Silverman, head of women's studies at the University of Calgary.

Beginning this Friday evening with registration at 4:30 p.m. and running until mid-day Sunday, the retreat offers a wide variety of instruction and experiences.

Mallett says the weekend will include meditation and simple breathing techniques called pranayama, as well as asana yoga postures, discussions, collage, journaling and collecting, a Zen tea ceremony, and Silverman's guest appearance.

"The 'sacred' is often understood to be located outside of who you are; and 'nature' is often defined as being the world that you can see," notes Mallett in promotional material. "This weekend is designed to help (participants) follow (their) own nature to the unique sacred place within."

Through the eight aspects of Ashtanga yoga, those at the retreat will learn practices that bring them closer to a recognition of the sacred event in their daily routines.

They "will leave from this weekend with the skills needed to be in concert with the grace that always surrounds them," says Mallett, who began teaching classical Hatha yoga at the Sivananda and Sunra yoga centres in London, England in the 1980s.

She has been teaching at Salt Spring Centre since 1993.

Vicky Husband talk on Friday

All spaces on a Saturday walk through the Mill Farm have been filled, but islanders can still explore forest issues with well-known environmentalist Vicky Husband on Friday night.

At Gulf Islands Secondary, people can hear Husband speak beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Forest Talk with Vicky Husband and Forest Walk to the Mill Farm are part of the Tourist in Your Own Backyard series sponsored by the Salt Spring Island Conservancy.

Husband is currently the conservation chair of the Sierra Club of B.C. (SCBC) and sits on the boards of the SCBC foundation, the Sierra Club of Canada and The Land Conservancy of B.C.

She has helped achieved several conservation victories in B.C., states a Salt Spring Island Conservancy press release.

Husband "played a significant role in protecting ancient forests on Vancouver Island, including Clayoquot Sound, Power, Battle, Naspart, Tahsish, Carmanah, Lower Walbran and the Lower Tsitika. She was deeply involved in the

Xmas thrift sale set

With Hallowe'en all finished by the weekend, the Christmas season is set to take off.

And first off the block is the Lady Minto Hospital Auxiliary, which is holding its annual Christmas sale at Meaden Hall this Saturday.

Included in the sale — dubbed as an "early Christmas shopping extravaganza" — will be jewellery, books, children's toys, men's and ladies' wear, collectibles and kitchen items.

Organizers say the event will offer a variety of inexpensive items of excellent quality all under one roof.

Proceeds from the annual event will be directed to equipment purchases for Lady Minto Hospital and its extended care wing.

The sale runs from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

successful effort to designate South Moresby (Gwaii Haanas) in Haida Gwaii (Queen Charlotte Islands) as a National Park Reserve, and she was a driving force in the protection of the Khutzymateen, Canada's first grizzly bear sanctuary. Most recently, she contributed to the 2001 precedent-setting agreement to protect the Great Bear Rainforest on B.C.'s central coast."

She has been honoured with provincial, national and international awards for her work. This year she was granted the Order of Canada. Admission is by donation.

Library hours change

Evening hours at Salt Spring's library will be reduced for the winter months.

The board and library volunteers have found that people are less keen to visit the library at night as evening temperatures drop.

As a result, the library has decided to give volunteer staff a break and close earlier in the evenings until spring warmth and light return.

Effective immediately, the library will be open Monday and Wednesday evenings from 4-6 p.m.

Otherwise, library hours remain unchanged. The library is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. every day except Sunday.

Library patrons are reminded that they can both reserve and order books through Interlibrary Loan by e-mail using the library's web site: www.saltspringlibrary.com

Everyone is invited to the Salt Spring Trail and Nature Club monthly social on November 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the United Church lower hall.

Featured is a guest from Vancouver Island — Lindsay Elms. He will talk about conquering Vancouver Island's mountains from early history to the present.

HIKERS

November 5: Charles Kahn will be in charge leading us from Mill Farm up the back side of Mount Bruce and maybe Mount Sullivan. Carpool to leave ArtSpring at 9:45 a.m. to meet south-enders at Drummond Park at 10 a.m.

November 12: Today Bob Food will lead us through the scenic Shepherd Hills. Carpool to leave ArtSpring at 9:45 a.m.

November 19: With Fred Powell in charge we will take a trail in the Burgoyne/Maxwell area. Carpool to leave ArtSpring at 9:45 to meet south-enders at Burgoyne Triangle at 10.

November 26: Off-island with Martyn Day to East Sooke Park's spectacular coastline trail. Hikers will have the option of how far they go before cutting back on the forestry tracks to the meeting point. Carpool to leave ArtSpring at 9:10 to meet up with south-enders

Trail, nature club sets Nov. activities

at Drummond Park at 9:30 before proceeding onto the 10 a.m. ferry.

You could make the 5 p.m. ferry from Swartz Bay but a stopover at the Prairie Inn (Mount Newton Crossroads) for an "early bird" dinner is recommended before making it onto the 7 p.m. ferry.

WALKERS

Saturday, November 2: A special Mill Farm outing to join with the Salt Spring Conservancy, with biologist Robin Annschild and Vicky Husband of the Sierra Club has filled all available spaces already.

November 5: We go off-island with Frank Monaghan to Dodds Narrows near Nanaimo. This walk has some descending and uphill walking from the ocean where we should hear and see sea lions offshore.

Meet at Portlock Park at 8:30 a.m. to arrange carpools and catch the 9 a.m. ferry from Vesuvius. Walkers may eat down at the water's edge or, if they can wait, slip in to the Crow and Gate Pub as they return home. This trip may take until the 3:30 boat from Crofton to return, or later if shopping is added on.

November 12: Tony Pedersen will lead us into Ruckle Park on a moderate walk that will start from the parking lot at the end of Beaver Point Road inside the park around 10:30 a.m. Either carpool from ArtSpring by 10 a.m. or wait at Drummond Park for a ride around 10:15 a.m.

November 19: A change of location is in store for us today as we go to Burgoyne Bay with Marg and Art Simons. Leave ArtSpring in carpools by 10 a.m. and/or meet at "the triangle" where Fulford-Ganges Road meets Burgoyne Bay Road.

November 26: John Myers will lead us up Mount Tuam on a moderately demanding trail. Carpool from ArtSpring, leaving at 10 a.m., or wait at Drummond Park for a lift around 10:15.

RAMBLERS

November 5: Paul Ranney has a new ramble for us in the Whims Road area. Meet at Centennial Park at 10 a.m.

November 12: Rita Sagness will take us to Channel Ridge on a new trail. Meet at Centennial Park, 10 a.m.

November 19: Harold Page is going to repeat a very pleasant walk at the end of Burgoyne Bay Road. Meet at Centennial Park at 10 a.m. or Burgoyne Bay and Fulford-Ganges Road triangle at 10:15 a.m.

November 26: Percy Dewar has one of our favourite rambles. We're off to North End Farm. Meet at Centennial Park at 10 a.m.

we need room to operate.

To protect the island way of life.

Imagine... eight Operating Room (OR) team members, a patient and several equipment carts jammed into a space a little larger than your bedroom. Not only is our OR cramped; we are now busier than ever. The number of operations has increased 288% in ten years. Furthermore, patients recovering from anaesthetic have to be cared for in one of the four Emergency Room beds. This limits the number of patients that can be handled in our increasingly busy ER.

To meet the current and future needs of our community, an expansion plan for the hospital has been developed, with the first phase covering the creation of an expanded Operating Room, with an endoscopy suite and a designated post anaesthetic recovery room, and our first Palliative Care Suite.

We need your help. We must raise $650,000 of the $1.8 million budgeted for phase one and the Capital Regional District and the Vancouver Island Health Authority will fund the balance. We need your support to give our surgical team room to operate.

Please give and help us build a healthy community. For more information or to make a donation contact the Foundation at 538-4845.

Please give.

School board candidate Judith Boel

In my six years of service as your school trustee, I am proud to say that I have always been a strong advocate for quality public education.

And I think we have succeeded. I believe that our school district offers the best public education in the whole of British Columbia!

I speak from experience

when I say what a wonderful school district we have. From 1972 to 1992 I worked in different school districts as a special education teacher and school psychologist. All my children and my grandchildren have attended public school in B.C.

In the past six years as a Salt Spring school trustee I have promoted:

- annual planning retreats;
- health and safety for staff and students;
- alternate education within the public schools and;
- ethical revenue generation to create jobs and maintain programs.

I will always uphold the values of:

- recognizing the dedication of our employees;
- promoting good working relationships and;
- maintaining clear and open lines of communication.

I am energetic, creative, accessible and solution-focused.

I have conflict resolution skills and am sensitive to labour issues. Please support me to continue to advocate for the highest standard of public education for all our children.

School board candidate Garth Hendren

Good public education is the keystone to the well-being of our democracy. Without a healthy education system the institutions that we value — good government, a healthy environment and an educated population — would be greatly compromised.

It is only through public education that we can achieve these goals. It is our children's fundamental right and we as a community deserve it.

When I first ran for election in January of 1998, I promised I would work for a balanced budget and in 2001 our school district declared a surplus.

I promised I would work for greater authority for the parent advisory councils located in all of our schools. We now have legislation that gives our parents the authority to sit on all school planning councils.

I promised that we would look for other sources of revenue for our school district. In the last three years we have raised over $1.5 million beyond the basic grant the provincial government provides.

As a parent and school trustee, chair of the Middle Years, Middle Schools Task Force, chair of the Salt Spring Library Board, chair of the Advisory Design Panel for the Islands Trust, and a Community Services board member, I shall continue to fight for the best public education for our community.

Hendren

School board candidate Michelle (Mike) Krayenhoff

I have been an island resident since 1988, am the mother of Joss (17), Fraser (15), and Elsbet (12), and the wife and business partner of Meror Krayenhoff (Terra Firma Builders).

Krayenhoff

I have a Bachelor of Arts degree majoring in dance and psychology from Simon Fraser University, and am currently studying at the Justice Institute of B.C., Centre for Conflict Resolution Through the community's Restorative Justice Program. I've been a mentor for first-time offenders.

In the school realm, I have spent 14 years advocating for local students. My activities include volunteering as a parent in the classroom, directing children's theatre productions and being a founding parent at both Phoenix Elementary and Phoenix High schools.

I chaired the Phoenix Parent Advisory Council and the District Parent Advisory Council, and attended provincial conferences to represent Gulf Islands parents. As well, I was an external team member for school accreditation in other school districts, and was involved in the GISS accreditation process during the past school year.

Sports activities have included 13 years with the Salt Spring Island Youth Soccer Association and several years on the SS Stingrays swim team. In the arts I have been involved with the Turn Again Dance Collective, taught dance, was involved with the Artists in the Schools program, Stage Coach Theatre and community theatre productions.

I value family and community.

School board candidate Vaughan Walters

Born in July of 1935, I completed my formal education to Grade 10 at Kitsilano Secondary School in Vancouver, B.C., and followed up with continuing education in business management and supervision at night school classes.

I was employed by the Vancouver School Board from 1958 to 1994 in the Material Services Department and retired as supervisor.

My wife Darlene and I visited Salt Spring Island in the summer of 1989 and were so impressed by the ambiance and lifestyle of the community that we purchased our property, built our house, opened our French Country Fabric Creations Studio and retired here in July of 1993.

The past six years have kept me very busy as one of the directors of the popular Studio Tour and, having recently retired from that responsibility, I am looking for new challenges and an outlet for service to the community, which is the reason I am seeking election to this important office.

Due to my 36 years of hands-on experience with the Vancouver School Board, I feel that I am duly qualified and confident of success in the new position as trustee.

Walters

School board candidate Charles Hingston

I am married with three children and work as a B.C. Ferries deck officer.

I have a Bachelor of Arts degree from Notre Dame in Nelson, B.C., and earned the Governor General's Gold Medal as outstanding university graduate.

I have two years of business management experience, and have done youth and childcare service. My many years of school board experience include four years as chair and service on all board committees.

Beyond the local scene, I was the Vancouver Island representative to the public education restructuring committee in 1995-96, president of the B.C. School Trustees' Association from 1987 to 1990, and chair of the B.C. Public School Employers' Association from 1996 to 2000. I have co-chaired the Fulford parents group, been treasurer for the high school parents group and school board liaison to the Community Services board.

I am running for office again because I enjoy being a Salt Spring school trustee and believe I do a good job of serving our students and this community. We have lots of challenges in meeting the needs of all students, from program choice to revenue generation, from student-focused planning to provincial funding levels.

I would like to continue working with others committed to addressing these and other issues with improved achievement for all students as our goal.

Hingston

Trust candidate Dietrich Luth

I have been a long-time resident of Salt Spring and a former CRD director.

In the last six years I have to come realize that opposing opinions can be transformed into complementary forces for change. If elected I would seek this kind of conflict resolution to satisfy our divergent environmental, commercial and social needs. The heartfelt interests of all islanders need to be reconciled in the realization that we are all in the same boat together.

The official community plan was approved contingent on implementing a five-year review process under section A.9.2. That promise is due in 2003! As a trustee I would review the OCP with attention to its current economic and social implications and, if needed, amend the land use bylaw accordingly.

A lot has happened since 1998 to change the patterns of our tourism and housing needs. I will press for equitable and viable solutions that work for us and not against us. In an effort to give the public a definitive choice among nine candidates, I have teamed up with Paul Marciano to coordinate the strengths that both of us can bring to the job.

We ask voters for the chance to become the community's conduit to change.

Election coverage starts

The Driftwood's election coverage begins in earnest this week with an introduction of each of Salt Spring's 17 candidates.

Candidates in Trust, school board and Capital Regional District races were invited to submit to this week's Driftwood a brief biography and explanation of why he or she is running for office.

Their responses are on Pages B4 to B9. Next week, watch the Driftwood for a full election supplement.

Trust candidate Kimberly Lineger

Centre.

Currently, I am employed as program coordinator for RCMP Victims Assistance Program and for the Salt Spring Islands Trust as recorder for its Trust committee and other meetings. During this time, I have attended every meeting of the Islands Trust and had the opportunity to listen to many members of our community speak about their issues of concern.

Lineger

Since moving to Salt Spring Island in 1997, my involvement in the community includes being chair of the Phoenix Alternative High School Parent Advisory Council and chair of the District Parent Advisory Council.

I am also a member of the Salt Spring Islanders for Justice and Reconciliation group and secretary for the SSI Crime Prevention Association.

I have a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology and a second degree in Political Science (undeclared).

Professionally, I have worked for the B.C. Chamber of Commerce as committee manager and as office administrator for the Richmond Women's issues involving transportation, labour, environment, aboriginal land claims and tourism.

As a result, I have developed a strong belief in the power of individuals to effect change in their community by challenging existing political processes and searching for new opportunities. It is with this belief that I now seek to serve my community on the Trust to work collaboratively to address significant governance and other community issues.

Trust candidate

David Borrowman

I settled here in 1986 after 11 years in the Canadian diplomatic corp.

I operated a glass-blowing studio and then a photo business. I still do photography, mainly for local artists. As an additional interest, I chair the board of Graffiti Theatre.

Once here, my former calling in government reasserted itself. I chaired the 1992-95 Local Government Options Study and was elected to the Trust in 1996. Trust Council later elected me to the Executive Committee.

I am running for office to advance some of the gains made during my six years in office. The official community plan and the accompanying bylaws have been completely renewed. Imaginative land use tools are now in place to help protect the environment. I believe they can also assist with issues such as housing and parking in Ganges.

I want to help the Trust advance its plan for renewal, to meet the challenges of local representation and financial equity among the islands.

Meanwhile, I believe that current collaborative efforts with the CRD are ripe for expansion. Town hall meetings should include the CRD and PARC. The Advisory Planning Commission should be beefed up, especially for environmental issues.

Trust candidate

Sheri Nielson

I moved to Salt Spring Island 19 years ago for a sense of community, safety and security. I have actively participated in this community by serving as a part-time paramedic with B.C. Ambulance for the past 11 years, as a volunteer auxiliary RCMP officer for five years and three years with Search and Rescue.

Early in my career I worked as a journalist for several small community newspapers. I have also operated my own small business as a restaurant consultant and food safety educator for the past 18 years.

I am concerned that the Islands Trust appears to be headed towards a position of less tolerance for the diverse cultures within our community and increasing regulatory control.

Salt Spring Island residents have voiced their wish to remain a rural, unorganized community. It is therefore imperative that the island's trustees fulfill their role as planning managers, maintaining an effective relationship with other jurisdictions that influence our future.

We need to continue to protect our environment and we need to provide for ALL of the people who live here.

Nielson

CRD/Trust candidate

Eric Booth

My family moved here in 1949, and I was born in the old Lady Minto (now the Community Centre) in 1952.

Booth

I graduated from school in 1969 and worked throughout B.C. as a telecommunications technician/foreman, returning home to Salt Spring in 1976. Shortly thereafter I met my bride-to-be Cindy. Together, over 25 years, we have raised our three children — Neacol, Jarrod and Taylor.

An independent contractor, I've been an active member of our theatre community since age five, (Jesus Christ Superstar, Scrooge, etc.), a volunteer for the Nights Alive youth program and director of the SSI Monetary Foundation.

We are at a crossroads. Unless a new course of action is chosen, this incredible, diverse community we all love and cherish, will soon cease to exist — a victim of gentrification, rising property values and increased taxes.

I am running for office on Salt Spring to work to preserve and protect our community as well as our local environment. I bring to the positions of trustee and regional director my creative problem-solving, common-sense approach to consensus building, vision and strong belief in family and community values.

I am also very fortunate to have the offered experience and knowledge our current, twice-elected regional director Kellie Booth as my alternate director.

Trust candidate Dean Crouse

I am 30 years old, and grew up on Salt Spring since 1980.

I attended the University of Victoria, and earned my Geography/History degree, specializing in rural and urban planning, in 1996. I attained a professional teaching certificate in 1998.

I have been an alternative education teacher since 1999, and president of the SSI Disc Golf Association president for the past four years.

I have two children, aged 7 and six weeks.

I am not participating in this campaign out of protest against our past trustees or to split votes.

Trusteeship requires enthusiasm and awareness behind our community goals. The overwhelming feedback I hear is this: our community wants to be empowered by our local-level government. I want to assist in this process.

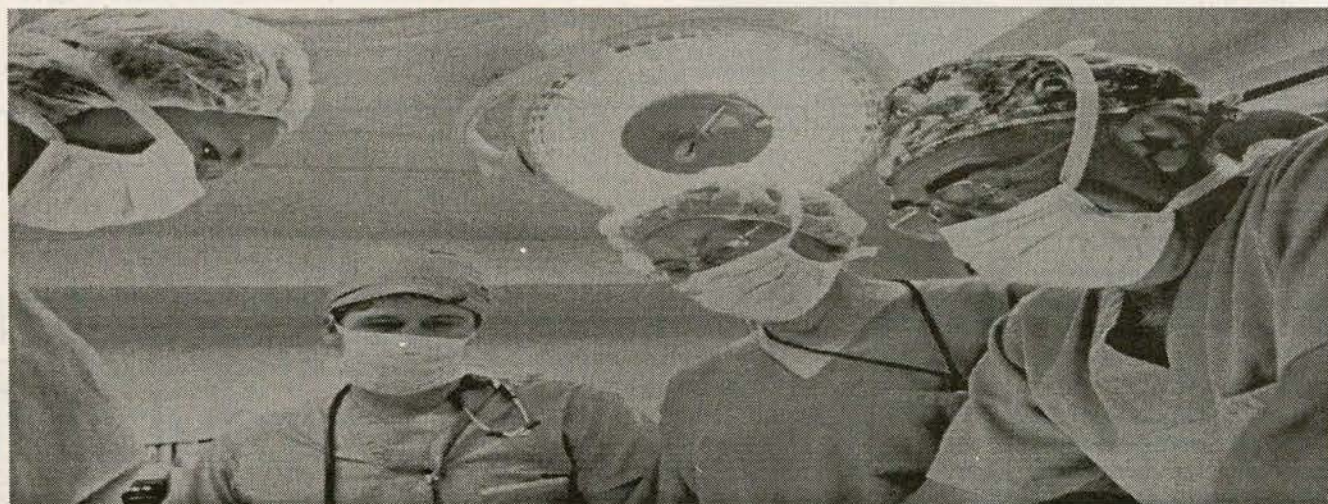

We are facing on Salt Spring a vast amount of issues that will not go away by electing a short-term solution. I'm sure I don't need to list them all here; but the growth that is pervasive now is a very important concern for us all, and while it is inevitable, we have to sensibly manage our island's future. By being aware of these issues and empowering our community to participate in them, we all benefit. Youth, especially, should be involved in local decision-making. We need better communication between all islanders, trustees, and other governing bodies.

I came back to Salt Spring for the way we live and our difference we share. I undertake to hear what is being said, respond and act accordingly.

we need room to operate.

To protect the island way of life.

Imagine... eight Operating Room (OR) team members, a patient and several equipment carts jammed into a space a little larger than your bedroom. Not only is our OR cramped; we are now busier than ever. The number of operations has increased 288% in ten years. Furthermore, patients recovering from anaesthetic have to be cared for in one of the four Emergency Room beds. This limits the number of patients that can be handled in our increasingly busy ER.

To meet the current and future needs of our community, an expansion plan for the hospital has been developed, with the first phase covering the creation of an expanded Operating Room, with an endoscopy suite and a designated post anaesthetic recovery room, and our first Palliative Care Suite.

We need your help. We must raise $650,000 of the $1.8 million budgeted for phase one and the Capital Regional District and the Vancouver Island Health Authority will fund the balance. We need your support to give our surgical team room to operate.

Please give and help us build a healthy community. For more information or to make a donation contact the Foundation at 538-4845.

Please give.

Thorburn
Trust Advisory Planning Commission for 10 years

Since moving to Salt Spring Island in 1989, I have been active in our community by serving on the Islands Trust Advisory Planning Commission for 10 years and being involved with various environmental and tourism-related associations.

I have also represented Salt Spring for 10 years on our regional tourism association known as Tourism Vancouver Island.

I have owned The Beach House B&B, located on Fulford Harbour, for many years and I've co-authored the book Salt Spring Island — A Place to Be.

While doing the research I gained many insights into island life.

Before moving here, I'd spent 20 years in education, including seven years as a community school co-ordinator, emphasizing community involvement in decision-making.

I have a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology from the University of Windsor. I enjoy gardening, reading, art, home design and decorating.

I have two children and two grandchildren and I'm committed to serving our island community.

Through years of committee involvement, I have deepened my knowledge of the value of our island's unique natural beauty and diverse population.

I believe I now have the necessary experience to serve our community effectively on the Trust at this crucial and exciting time when significant governance improvements are possible.

CRD candidate

Gary Holman

I have been a property owner and active in community governance issues since 1989.

As a consulting economist specializing in resource and land use issues, I've worked for clients in the public and private sector.

I chaired the Business Focus Group during the official community plan (OCP) review, and was a candidate for the Islands Trust in 1996.

For the past six years I have served as chair of the Advisory Planning Commission to the Islands Trust and as a board member on the Salt Spring Island Conservancy.

I have also been chair of the South and West Salt Spring Conservation Partnership since 1998. This coalition of local, regional and provincial conservation agencies worked with community groups to acquire and protect 2,600 acres of the Texada lands.

Recently I was a leader in referenda campaigns against the sale of community parks and incorporation.

As CRD director for Salt Spring, I want to demonstrate that our rural system of governance can be effective if local representatives work constructively together, and with community groups.

I also want to ensure that the Islands Trust reform proposal to integrate service delivery with its land use planning function receives a thorough and fair hearing by islanders, the CRD board and the province.

Holman

I've helped raise three children on Salt Spring and currently work as a freelance web designer.

I was inspired to run for election by mayor Lisa Barrett of Bowen Island who, during the incorporation study, challenged Salt Springers to come up with something a little more creative than a typical municipality. To that end I offer my creative skills to serve the community over the next three years as an island trustee.

With increasing numbers of residents networking through the Internet we are seeing the potential for a greater participatory democracy than ever before. If elected I would empower a wider sampling of the community in the consultation process, not just those who have the time and commitment to attend meetings.

Marciano

Who we vote for is more vital than the institutions of governance and even among nine candidates for Trust, voters should be able to detect the career bureaucrats who have been the architects of so much over-regulation.

Vote splitting this time around could also leave us exactly where we are today. Consequently, along with former CRD director Dietrich Luth, I am asking islanders to seriously consider our commitment to work together as a team, for real change.

Trust candidate Paul Marciano

Trust candidate Tom Pickett

I came to the Gulf Islands 10 years ago because I thought it would be a great place to raise my family.

Pickett

During most of my time here I have been a certified organic farmer of vegetables and livestock.

I ran against the incumbents three years ago because they were implementing bylaws that were a collection of loopholes, with more focus on protecting vested interests than serving the community.

Failure to acknowledge public input or the citizens advisory committees has led Bylaw 355 and the Trust into complete disrepute.

Like 70 per cent of those islanders who voted against it, I don't support incorporation.

But we will never get anywhere as long as we allow ourselves to be governed by two people with five friends or chosen advisors, who draw up public policy behind closed doors.

I intend to change all this. Islanders can expect to see public policy formed in town hall meetings.

Issues surrounding growth must be dealt with and dealt with from a broad base. The input of this community will no longer be disregarded.

In consultation with this community I am prepared to take immediate no cost action, to begin to correct the housing problem.

I see no reason to raise taxes.

CRD candidate Doug Rajala

I am a long-time resident and property owner on the island.

I served as chairman of the Salt Spring Harbour Authority for a number of years and pride myself in being able to get things done.

I have two children in school and daycare programs.

I wish to create a system that works for the people of Salt Spring Island that makes it possible for our children to establish a life here.

We can deal with our problems together without making a new regulation for every little thing.

As your CRD candidate for Salt Spring Island there are several issues that I feel are important to the voters of this island.

I want to discuss two main issues — over regulation and high taxation.

Over-regulation is obvious in the building permit system. Building contractors and individuals who build homes are now required to provide a warranty on any new construction.

The building inspection department disclaims responsibility for its inspections and charges exorbitant fees.

I also believe that our taxes in the CRD are much too high for the services we receive.

It is causing considerable hardship among retirees and working people.

It is almost impossible for a young working couple to purchase a house without family help.

Our tax bills must come down 20 to 30 per cent.

I would like the opportunity to work towards this.

Hallowe'en parties lined up

A Fulford Inn Hallowe'en party set for Saturday night has joined the list of spooky nights festivities on Salt Spring.

One of Salt Spring's hottest blues ensembles — the Atomic Blues Band — is taking care of the music which begins at 9 p.m.

The following evening, November 3, a Samhain (Hallowe'en) circle dance celebration is unfolding at the Core Inn from 7-8:30 p.m.

As reported in last week's paper, Hallowe'en night itself offers a host of family activities.

The traditional Salt Spring Fire Department fireworks and bonfires take place in downtown Ganges and Drummond Park in Fulford beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A lantern parade leaves from Barb's Buns at about 5:30 p.m., and creative face painting is offered at Barb's during the day.

Also for families is the popular Family Fun-Fest, with its famous cakewalk and games, set for the Community Gospel Chapel from 5-7 p.m.

For adults only, Moby's

Pub presents its annual Hallowe'en Howl with Auntie Kate and her band, with costume prizes up for grabs.

DJ music, a projected video, concession and prizes are also on tap for the Kanaka Road Skate Park as a fundraiser for new ramps on Hallowe'en night from 5-11 p.m. (See story, below.)

A Hallowe'en Bash Costume Party for the whole family is also happening at Lions Hall beginning at 8 p.m. with the "tasty rhythms of Zimbabwe" provided by Zimbabalicious.

Skatepark benefit Oct. 31

Music, an outdoor video, concession and prizes are all part of a Hallowe'en night fundraiser for skate park ramps.

Last Minute Productions, a non-profit organization specializing in raising money for youth activities, has put together the event which runs at the Kanaka Road skate park from 5 to 11 p.m.

Proceeds will help wood-working students purchase materials to repair, rebuild or replace the Kanaka Road ramps.

According to Cassidy Turner, a founding member of Last Minute Productions, the goal is to sell 100 tickets at $5 each to meet the $500 fundraising goal.

Music for the evening will be provided by DJ Dan Snake Head, who opened for Get Some at the Farmers' Institute Barn Storm event in July.

Food and drinks will also be available, and a projected skateboarding movie shown.

Prizes have so far been donated by Blue Dragon Naturals, Work Wear World, The Music Emporium and

B-Side Clothing.

Event sponsors are Thrifty Foods, Teddy Bear Take-Out, Music Emporium, Acoustic Planet, Arvid Chalmers Realty, Dave's Blasting, Apple Photo, Blue Dragon Naturals and Moka House.

"A very special thanks goes out to Trish Nobile, the Core Inn Youth Project, and John and Tim from Island Star Video," said Turner.

"Come and show your support for the youth of our community and have fun doing it."

Vollrath releases Christian music at CD party Sun.

Islanders are invited to join David Carl Vollrath as he celebrates release of his first Christian praise and worship album at Community Gospel Chapel on Sunday, November 3.

David Carl Vollrath

Called Unfailing Love, Vollrath wrote all of the CD's music and lyrics, plays acoustic guitar and sings lead vocals on all 12 tracks.

The release concert begins at 7 p.m.

Vollrath and his family worship at the Community Gospel Chapel, where he is involved with the praise and worship music ministry.

He has held the same position with the Salt Spring Baptist Church, and wrote the CD's title track for the occasion of his baptism at that church.

Vollrath began playing guitar at age 13 and says he "immediately had a desire to write his own music and lyrics."

In 1994, two years after "accepting Jesus as his Lord and Saviour," he "began writing songs to glorify the Lord."

Unfailing Love was produced by Vollrath and Ramesh Meyers of Allowed Sound Studio, engineered by Meyers and mastered by Paul Brosseau at Nomad Music.

Contributing musicians are Meyers, Marlene Cormack, Laurent Boucher, Paula Vollrath and Susheela Meyers.

Before moving to Salt Spring, Vollrath attended the Salvation Army's Highpoint Community Church in Victoria, and before moving to the west coast was also involved with the Salvation Army's Sault Ste. Marie Corp. in Ontario.

As a student of the craft of lyric writing, Vollrath hopes to encourage and assist others in writing original Christian songs for praise and worship by offering songwriting workshops at churches.

Unfailing Love is released by Vollrath's own record label called Living Water Music.

The CD will be for sale at Sunday's concert, or can be ordered directly by calling Vollrath at 537-0832 or via e-mail to dvollrath@salt-spring.com.

It is also available at www.saltspringmusic.com and Acoustic Planet.

Hastings House wants butterflies

An upscale Salt Spring accommodation is calling on island painters to become part of its Wall of Fame, and possibly win a five-course dinner for two.

"Several of you (painters) have graced our grounds with your presence as you capture the rustic beauty of our farm buildings and vibrant gardens," notes a press release from the Hastings House. "We are now offering the opportunity for you to be represented on (our) first Wall of Fame."

One of Hastings House's recently re-decorated suites features a print fabric of flowers and butterflies on a "buttery background."

Nine empty frames currently await the painted expertise of Salt Spring artists.

"We invite you to submit a small painting featuring a butterfly(ies) in whatever pose and setting you deem worthy of your brush. The idea is to represent local artists with differing styles."

Magnus off to San Fran

As a dancer and ambassador of islanders, Canadians and people with disabilities, Brad Magnus has been invited to perform at the Spirit of Trees Special Olympics fundraiser in San Francisco December 5.

Magnus, an island performing artist with Down's Syndrome, recently travelled to Japan to dance for the crown prince in March.

Among his numerous interpretive dance performances is his representing Canada at previous Special Olympics events in Cyprus and Toronto, along with the 1994 Commonwealth Games in Victoria, and a 1993 tour to Vienna.

While local sponsorship is anticipated through the Barcapel Foundation, Magnus could also use additional financial support from the community.

Donation jars will soon appear on the counters at local businesses and dona-

The entry should fit a custom-cut blue matting and measure 7.5 by 10.5 inches.

Within the same new suite at Hastings House are four empty frames waiting for small paintings of flowers, again matted in blue to approximately six-by-six inches.

The name of each artist whose work is selected will be identified on a small brass plaque below the painting.

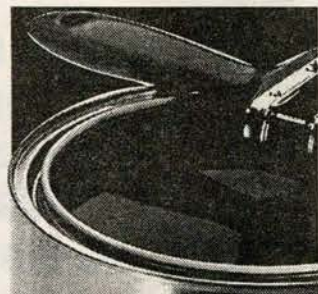

Hastings House also plans to feature the winning submissions for a full week in the Manor House and publish the results in the Driftwood.

In addition, names will be drawn from among the selected artists to win a five-course dinner for two at the Hastings House.

Entries are due at the Hastings House by December 31, and selections will be made the first week of January.

Further information can be obtained by calling Hastings House at 537-2362.

tions are welcome at Brad Magnus's Project San Francisco Fund at the Bank of Montreal (account #3076-358).

Cinema

My Big Fat Greek Wedding — Held over! Canadian writer-comedian Nia Vardalos turns her one-woman stage show about a Greek woman wanting to marry a non-Greek man into a feature film. Lots of fun and laughs!

The Ring — American remake of the Japanese horror film in which watching a cursed videotape causes the viewer to die within seven days. A masterpiece of psychological horror, with outstanding visuals, sound and music. Plays for two weeks.

Cable TV

Salt Spring TV, Cable 12 — Runs continuously for 24 hours from Tuesday, November 5, 3 p.m. — Salt Spring Live continues with music, drama, comedy and scenes from various island events. This week's episode includes scenes from pipe bands at the Highland Games and local musicians performing at the Tree House Cafe. Stephen Glanville also provides some footage from Moby's Wednesday Night Live! open stage. Meanwhile, back in April 2002, the Salt Spring Historical Society presented historian Rocky Sampson. In Sampson Family History, Rocky reflects on the early days of his family's settlement in the Fernwood area of Salt Spring during the late 1850s. Produced by Peter Prince.

Exhibitions

Margaret Threlfall shows sheep portraits at Barb's Buns, and water-colour boats at the Houseboat store on Hereford Avenue through October.

Steven Friedman exhibits photography from the U.S. southwest at Moby's through October.

Richard MacDonald shows his photography focused on the beauty, colour and patterns of nature at Salt Spring Roasting Co. through October.

Stefanie Denz has four pieces hanging at Luigi's Pizzeria.

Diana Dean's Artemisia Gallery at 135 North View Road is open daily by appointment.

Frank Moore to lead business plan course

Frank Moore spent more than 20 years working in California's Silicon Valley in business development, marketing and sales.

He says it doesn't make any difference whether you are selling potato chips or microchips, the same formulas apply.

"Many people are overwhelmed by this daunting task and even more think it is unnecessary. Building a business without a business plan is like an archer shooting an arrow into the sky hoping he hits something, as opposed to aiming at and hitting a predetermined target," said Moore. "You need to focus and see it grow."

The Community Economic Development (CED) Project is hosting a Business Plan workshop with Salt Spring resident Moore on Thursday, November 7 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Lions Hall. The workshop is one of several the project team has organized for the coming months.

Moore said that 67 per cent of small businesses that fail never developed a business plan.

"For other small to large businesses, financial and operational results range from internal start-up groups within corporations failing to overall performance of corporations being meagre at best," said Moore.

"You need to ask 'is there a market and will I ever make money at this?' You also need to know what your playbook will look like and what pitfalls and traps to be aware of that can sabotage your plan."

The November 7 workshop is designed to walk people through developing a business plan — its intended uses, the process, the outline and key elements that make up the plan.

Other key concepts to be explored include: whole products, market segmentation, target marketing, positioning and other challenging questions that need to be asked.

"If you are three, 10 or 100-plus employees into anything from adventure travel to retail to high tech, starting a new business or developing a new product, or you simply want to do better at managing and growing your business, this course will provide you with many new insights, tools and a template that at a minimum will be useful in communicating and rallying the team behind your game plan," said Moore.

The workshop is free but the pre-registration is requested. Contact the CED office at 537-4219.

courage to see aspects of your self, your reality and life in general that you did not before. Still, you may be reluctant to share your thoughts and feelings at this time. You will be ready in a few weeks time. So, take the time to deepen your focus and to acknowledge what you truly desire. In any case, be prepared to strike a balance between independence and involvement.

Sagittarius (Nov 21 - Dec 20)

An inward retreat to reconnect within is calling you now. A time of introspection, meditation and contemplation towards clearing the noise and confusion from your mind is the goal. In some respects you feel rebellious and want change. Knowing how to best achieve it is the ideal. Reaction, blame and superiority are sure to backfire. As long as you can assume a 'one amongst equals' attitude you will find peace.

Capricorn (Dec 21 - Jan 19)

Probing the depths of your heart and soul to access your wellspring of creative inspiration is in the spotlight. That this process includes activities with others of like mind is probable. A playful and exotic mood is a part of the atmosphere of the set. Independence is good but partying alone is rarely any fun. Deepening bonds with your friends, colleagues and playmates is the real goal. Melt divisions towards greater levels of expression.

Aquarius (Jan 20 - Feb 19)

Laying claim to well-earned rewards or needed favors continues. To this end you may have to outline your reasons, ideals and goals. Like going to the bank for a loan, or the boss for a raise you may have to prove your case. Rather than push others, be willing to be pushed — in the right direction, that is. Be open to guidance and advice. Trust in the generosity of people. If someone says no, ask someone else.

Pisces (Feb 19 - Mar 20)

Deepening bonds and relations is a central theme now. The twist here is that this process is with you and your own creative abilities as well as with significant others. You are meant to recognize and develop the full range of your talents. Brainstorm for ideas and ask others to act as a sounding board for your ideas. Also, be willing to reach out and try something new. Expect to face a few fears and be prepared to leap over them.

Tip of the Week:

Scorpio is the sign associated with death & rebirth, sex, taxes, psychology, processes and deep union of any kind wherein individuality is melted down, so to speak, into a more inclusive whole. Other key words for Scorpio include the following: intense, passionate, proud, secretive, obsessive, determination, competition, hidden resources and wealth, etcetera. At even deeper levels, Scorpio represents the dual desires of people. One side of this duality is ego desire and the other is soul desire. Within this model much of the complexity and confusion of life can be better understood. The ego, of its nature, is oriented towards a sense of individuality and of separateness. The ego is the instinctual side that is oriented towards security, comfort and familiarity. While these ambitions are fair enough at worst the ego is fear based. The soul, of its nature, is aware of the essential unity of all people and life in general. The soul is the 'knower' that knows where we are coming from, where we are going to in terms of destiny, that knows the laws of nature and spirit and 'the plan' both on an individual as well as a collective level. The soul is the fearless, enthusiastic side of our nature. In a sense, the ego is immature and the soul is mature. These two apparent sides, the ego and the soul, tend to be in conflict. We live in a world and during times that are very ego based, it seems. Inevitably, the soul wins because it is the essential aspect that lives and evolves beyond time and space. Surrender to the soul is the path of the mystic, of spirituality and of peace.

Aries (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

Melting differences and merging with others in some fashion is a central theme now. Your mind is probing the ideals of creating a more inclusive state and/or experience. The negotiations may not be easy, yet you are determined to see all sides. This process includes putting some of your personal desires aside. Also, much of the process is working itself through internally. See the value of creating a more inclusive attitude.

Taurus (Apr 21 - May 20)

With Venus still retrograde the caution light is still on in regards to major purchases or investments. In other words, do your homework by paying attention to the details and clauses and fine print. Be willing to enter into deepened discussions where loose ends and loopholes are recognized. Romantic notions and frivolous behavior now stands to feel the reality bite later. Be especially cautious concerning joint ventures. Discernment!

Gemini (May 21 - Jun 20)

Diligent efforts towards creating a more balanced lifestyle are the call now. Determining where are you experiencing imbalance is the first theme and why is perhaps the second. Consider that the quality of your thoughts, focus and attitude are foundational. You are being moved to create a more independent, colorful, varied and uplifting overall state. Since you will receive the most from this process, work with a smile.

Cancer (Jun 21 - Jul 21)

Clearing the old to make way for the new continues as a central theme. That you want to buy some new antiques is your business. However, states of mind and being are more your focus than things. This includes creating a more friendly and loving environment. Clear the clutter from your home, your mind and your heart in whatever order feels right. This way the new commitments coming into your life soon will be clear. Prepare!

Leo (Jul 22 - Aug 22)

A process of connecting within so that you can better decipher fact from fantasy continues. There are always people who want to sell others on their truth and vision. There is nothing wrong with it - this is the way of the world. However, we each have our own style, motives and destiny and realizing what these are is the real goal. It is time to take a closer look and to outline what you truly want and need based on the real you.

Virgo (Aug 22 - Sep 23)

Probing the depths to re-examine your beliefs, values and desires is in focus now. To this end you are challenged to connect with your core values. This process also includes practical considerations. Finances are central. How can you improve the quality of your product or service? Perhaps better marketing is the answer. Be willing to work with traditional methods. Also, take the risk to simply ask for what you want.

Libra (Sep 23 - Oct 21)

You are in a process of determining what is truly valuable and important. Consider that beyond things and security, a sense of meaning and purpose in life is the real gold that people seek. Even the very wealthy will usually agree. Breaking new ground includes joint efforts and investments. With Venus retrograde, however, you are advised to proceed slowly in this regard. Continue to explore your individual needs and desires.

Scorpio (Oct 22 - Nov 20)

You are in a bold and courageous mood. You are now afforded the

Now I lay me down to sleep . . .

Sleep is the most moronic fraternity in the world, with the heaviest dues and the crudest rituals. — Vladimir Nabokov

Methinks the author of Lolita doth protest too much. That sounds like something that might have been scribbled down in the early hours of some sleepless night by a grumpy insomniac fed up with counting sheep.

Still, he does have a point. Just imagine what a Type A personality could get done if said personality didn't have to render itself unconscious for one third of its lifetime. Assuming that you, like I, hit the sack for about eight hours a night, and assuming that we both make it to our allotted three score and 10 — that means that you and I will have spent close to a quarter of a century curled up and comatose in the Land of Nod.

So how much sleep do we need? The jury is still out. Edison growled, "People eat twice too much and sleep twice too long." But Paul Martin (not him — the one who wrote the book Counting Sheep) says, "We might live longer and happier lives if we took our beds as seriously as our running shoes."

One thing that most experts agree on is that we are all getting less sleep than we used to. Blame television, electric lights, Internet surfing, Starbucks or just the sheer hyped-up pace of modern life — whatever the cause, there are a lot of folks walking around with unclaimed luggage under their eyeballs.

And when it comes to the phenomenon of sleep, that may be just about all we can agree on. Most of our notions about sleep are erroneous.

People talk of "sleeping the night through." In fact, we get four or five "sleeps" of about 90 minutes each.

People who claim they never dream are wrong. They just don't remember them. And we talk of "sweet dreams." In fact, about two-thirds of our dreams are unpleasant.

Scientists aren't even precisely sure why we need to do to curl up and pass out once a day. Some argue we sleep to restore the body. Others say we do it to conserve energy. Certain researchers claim the function of sleep is to allow the brain to process the day's experiences and file them away in the memory banks — to help us remember, in other words.

Other researchers say the opposite: that sleep is like your computer off-switch. It prevents the brain from becoming over-loaded.

As to how much sleep we need — that, too is an open question. The health guides recommend eight hours a night, but there's a 70-year-old woman in England who claims she's never slept more than one hour a night — and no daytime naps either. Researchers hied her off to a sleep lab and monitored the woman for 72 hours straight. She stayed awake for the first 56 hours (nearly two and a half days) and then slept for only an hour and a half. The records show the woman awoke refreshed, alert and in good spirits.

Well, why not? Sleep is not an absolute biological imperative. Albatrosses can fly for 30 to 50 days without resting. As far as we can tell, whales, antelopes, shrews and giraffes don't sleep at all.

On the other hand, if you are of the hairless primate persuasion, it would be best if you don't try this at home. Going without sleep doesn't work very well for most humans. In fact, sleep deprivation is Dirty Trick Number One in every interrogators' Little Black Book.

Doctor Bernard Frankel, of the U.S. National Institute of Health says bluntly: "A human being can stay awake for no longer than 12 days without permanent damage."

Besides, it feels good. Sam Coleridge wrote, "Oh, sleep! It is a gentle thing, beloved from pole to pole."

And it's not as if it's a total waste of time. Fleming dreamed up penicillin while he was asleep. The laws of heredity came to Mendel in his sleep. Einstein discovered the germ of his Law of Relativity during one of his 10-hour timeouts. And Mozart composed The Magic Flute with his eyes wide shut.

The way I look at it, sleep is inevitable. So why not lie back and enjoy it?
